

BRITISH OFFICER TELLS HORRORS OF WAR WITH GERMANS

DESCRIBED VARIOUS KINDS OF "FRIGHTFULNESS" PRAC-TICED BY GERMANS.

MANY BARBAROUS ACTS TOLD

Cruelty of German Soldiers To People In Belgium Is Unbelievable.

(By John H. Byers)

Several thousand people heard Cap-tain Arthur Dugmore of the English army, tell about the great war, at the Assembly last night. Weary from travel and ill from the effects of Ger-man gas, Capt. Dugmore discussed as best he could the war's details and interested his audience greatly.

The Captain arrived here from Lin-coln, Neb., where he spoke Wednes-day. This morning he went to Lin-coln, Ill., to speak this afternoon.

It is natural people wonder why this English soldier is not fighting in the trenches, instead of lecturing in this country. He answered the ques-tion last night: "I am here because I am not physically able to fight. I was for months at the point of death be-cause of German gas. So I asked per-mission from the English officers, af-ter I had somewhat improved, to come here to tell the people of the war. My request was granted. I was gassed in France by the Germans so I am here now to 'gas' the Americans," said the captain.

The speaker said that years before the war Germany sent spies into near-ly all countries to get information re-garding their armies, navies, etc. Ger-many had hoped to get the people of the English colonies, where she also sent spies, to refuse to fight with the mother country in case of war. But after the war began it was soon evi-dent the colonies would be loyal. Aus-tralia sent 15 per cent of her popula-tion to France, as did Canada. From India also came troops to the aid of England.

"Do you believe those spies visited your country?" asked Dugmore. "Let us see. Do you know what caused the trouble in Mexico? It was Germany trying to stir up trouble between this country and Mexico, causing you to give your attention to Mexico instead of mingling in the big war. It did have effect, but it was evident your would rather come to the aid of my country than to the aid of Mexico and country and help the countries of the world overthrow the kaiser," said the captain.

Dugmore stated also that the trou-ble with Japan was started by Ger-many.

The speaker said that Germany thought she would start right out and swamp France, just as she did Belgium.

When she had done with France, she intended to do the same to Russia but, Dugmore said, she failed to carry out her policy.

Captain Dugmore described partial-ly, the horrors he said in Belgium. He said some of the atrocities com-mitted by the Germans in Belgium were beyond description.

The Germans burned a building near where he was a prisoner. A Bel-gian prisoner lying beside him watch-ed the burning building but said not a word. The next morning when the priests carried five bodies from the burned building he turned to Captain Dugmore and said, "There go the bod-ies of my mother, my wife and my three children. That is what those fel-lows did to my family." Capt. Dug-more said that was just one little act as compared with some others.

The speaker told of trench life, etc., giving a most interesting ad-dress. He hoped the war would soon close, but not until the Kaiser was subdued.

ROAD ANNOUNCES WAGE INCREASE

ROCHELLE MAN IS HELD AS SLACKER

ARTHUR BROWN TAKEN BEFORE FEDERAL AUTHORITIES AT FREEPORT.

Freeport, Aug. 10—Arthur Brown, of Rochelle was brought here last evening by Deputy U. S. Marshal Gal-lagher and taken before U. S. Com-missioner Vance, charged with hav-ing violated "an act of congress auth-orizing the president to increase tem-porarily the military establishment of the United States." In other words he failed to register for the army. Brown pleaded guilty and was held under bonds of $5,000 to the federal grand jury. He did not furnish bonds.

The claim is made that Brown reg-istered at his home precinct but did not respond to the order to appear be-fore the exemption board. This is the first case of the kind in the district, so far as known. Brown said he was at work at the Rockford cantonment camp; that on day day he became in-toxicated and when he awoke found his money, about $75, and stockings, taken from his feet, his hat, shirt and coat missing; that he then forgot all about appearing before the board of registration. He did not state whether he would appear before the board if given an opportunity.

COLONY CARS NOT TO RUN EVENINGS

LACK OF BUSINESS CAUSES SUS-PENSION OF SERVICE AFTER 6:10 IN THE EVENING

The following communication from the S. D. & E. explains this:

Aug. 9th, 1917. Dixon Evening Telegraph, City.

Please announce the following: "On and after Monday, Aug. 13th, the Colony service will be disconti-nued after 6:30 p. m., last car leaving Colony grounds at 6:10 p. m. This is on account of their being no business on this line after 6:00 p. m."

Yours truly,

A. W. COURNYER, Superintendent.

BERNARD FEELY IS CALLED TO REWARD

LINGERING ILLNESS CULMINATED IN DEATH OF HUSBAND AND FATHER.

Bernard P. Feely of this city passed away last evening at 7:15 o'clock at his home at 1111 Highland avenue after a lingering illness brought on by a complication of diseases.

Mr. Feely was born in Chatsworth, Ill., June 8, 1871. He lived there un-till four years ago when he and his family moved to a farm near Eldena, this county, later moving to Dixon.

Mr. Feely leaves to mourn his sad and early death a wife and two little girls, Justine and Kathleen; also his aged mother, at Chatsworth; three brothers, Thomas, John and Joseph, all of Chatsworth, and four sisters, Mrs. J. C. Jensen of Walton; Miss Julia Feely of Chicago and Mrs. W. C. Carney and Miss Katherine Feely of Chatsworth, beside many other relatives and friends who will feel great sorrow at the news of his death.

The funeral will be held at the late home at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow and at 10 o'clock at St. Patrick's Catholic church, with Rev. Foley officiating. Burial will take place in in Oakwood cemetery in Dixon.

MAWSON' TRAVELER WILL SHOW PICTURE OF THE ANTARCTIC

SIX REELS OF GREAT ANTARCTIC REGIONS WILL BE SHOWN AT ASSEMBLY.

WILL BE WONDERFUL PICTURE

The Mason Jubilee Singers Will Give Prelude Before Performance Tonight.

One of the most interesting mov-ing picture exhibitions will be given at the Assembly tonight, six reels of live matter on the great Antarctic region as seen by Mawson, the noted traveler. Animals and birds found on-ly in that region will be shown to-night. This is no ordinary picture. It is shown in two parts, with ten-min-ute interval between. It shows pen-guins by thousands, sea elephants and seals, the great icebergs of the snowy petrel and ice-clad mountains. The greatness of the theme, inspiring heroism of the actors, wonderful opening of new vistas, strange sights and especially the human achieve-ment make it a most thrilling experi-ence.

Evening Prelude.

The Mason Jubilee Singers, who gave such a delightful entertainment this afternoon, will sing a prelude to-night before the production of the Mawson picture. The singers are good and many pronounced them head-liners in their art.

Band Concert Good

Capt. Dugmore heard the concert by the Chamber of Commerce band last evening and was delighted to fol-low such an excellent program of patriotic music with a lecture on the war and patriotism.

Webers Coming.

Saturday and Sunday are two big days in point of music. The Weber Quartet comes Saturday, with a full concert in the afternoon, a prelude in the evening and two concert's Sunday. For three years the Assembly pro-gram manager has endeavored to get a contract with these men, but only succeeded this year. It is a great treat and all will who hear them will be well paid for the time spent.

With them is a reader of note, Miss Virginia Powell. Her piano-logues are original and show musical talent. Miss Powell is a clever story teller.

Children to Entertain.

The annual children's entertain-ment will be held Saturday evening. This feature attracts many because the little people always entertain the public. Prof. and Mrs. Holsinger have worked hard since the opening of the Assembly to get the children in con-dition for this entertainment.

Sunday Big Day.

Madame Julia Clausen, famous soprano, will be the star attraction Sunday by singing a full concert in the evening. Many people know of this talented singer by reputation, and now that they will have an oppor-tunity to see and hear her they will doubtless flock of Assembly park in large numbers.

Sunday Morning Services.

The Sunday morning service will be preached by Rev. C. A. Sunberg of Carthage, Ill. At the services will be music by the quartet composed of Mesdames Kittie Ballou, Lee Read, Messrs. Elmer Rice and Clinton Fahr-ney. The quartet sang on Thursday afternoon "America Triumphant" in most commendable manner and re-sponded to an encore.

SHERWOOD DIXON TOO YOUNG

Sherwood Dixon, son of Atty. and Mrs. Henry S. Dixon of this city, who has been in training at Fort Benja-min Harrison in Indiana, in the Of-ficers' Training Camp, was disappoint-ed in obtaining a commission because he was under 21 years of age. Many men who entered the officers' train-ing camps were disappointed because of being about 21, or a little under, which ruling the authorities made on the grounds that the soldiers of the draft army, which these men are to officer, would all be older than the officer.

LOCAL BOARD BUSY EXAMINING CLAIMS

EXEMPTION BOARD MAY RECALL SOME REJECTED MEN FOR FUR-THER EXAMINATION.

The Lee County Board of Exemp-tion has been busily occupied the past two days examining claims for exemp-tion and their accompanying affida-vits, and also the reports of the exam-ining physicians.

It is said the returns from the physicians are being scrutinized care-fully and that in some cases where men have been rejected because of over or underweight, or for other de-fects, that the rejected men may be recalled for another examination, fol-lowing instructions from the war de-partment modifying some physical requirements.

No list of exemptions granted or denied is ready for publication yet, but such a list will probably be an-nounced quite soon.

THREE MEN ACCOUNTED FOR

The following men were listed among those who failed to appear for their physical examinations in re-sponse to the draft call, but have been accounted for in the following man-ner:

Emanuel M. Lebowich, Serial No. 1324, Permit granted to be examined by Local Board in New York City.

Eugene Preston Whitney, Serial No. 191, Enlisted in U. S. Army.

James Bernard Boderick, Serial No. 139, Enlisted in U. S. Army.

LOWDEN SAYS COAL PRICE TO GO DOWN

GOVERNOR DECLARES LOWER PRICES MUST BE HAD IN ONE WAY OR ANOTHER.

Chicago, Aug. 10—A conference at which the price of Illinois coal is to be fixed is to be held here tonight by Gov. Lowden, members of the State Council of Defense and Coal opera-tors.

The alternative faced by the opera-tors if they fail to fix a satisfactory price is seizure of their mines by the state.

"Illinois is going to get coal from exorbitant coal prices in one way or another," the governor said in an-swer to a question by the newspaper men.

CHILDREN SHOULD CALL FOR PRIZES IN GARDEN RACE

FORTY-TWO PRIZES REMAIN UN-CALLED FOR AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The Dixon prize garden contest committee reports that there are 42 prizes to be called for. The prize win-ners may have their money by calling at the Y. M. C. A. Below are the names of those who have not yet claimed their rewards:

Margaret Beech, Bessie Becking-ham, Paul Brookner, Earl Bucking-ham, Collee, Eugenia, Homer and Sid-ney Collins, Gladys Frye, Clifford Cupitt, Grant Hayden, Eleanor Hen-nessy, Hubert Howell, Inez Lindsey, Mildred Lindsey, Raymond Long, Fre-mer McCormack, Nan McGinnis, Ow-en Meyers, Paul Mondlock, Nada Moosholder, Alice Powell, Stewart Prescott, Florence Quadlin, Richard Root, Ray Royce, Mabel Springer, Martin Springer, Clarence Sproul, Gerald Sproul, George Sproul, Beulah and Helen Stacy, Glen Tompkins, Dor-othy Trowbridge, Roscoe Wade, Rod-erick F. Ware, Edward Worley.

In order to see what use would be made of the money received 29 of the children were asked what they would do with the cash. 20 of them said they would save it and put it into the bank. One girl was to use her fund to join the Red Cross, one to buy stock-ings, one little tot said "I wish to buy candy," one boy was to save his money to apply on a bicycle and his par-ents were to give him as much as his prize amounted to, one planned to buy ice cream cones, one real garden-er would use his wealth to buy seed for next year, one would use his money to help pay his membership in the Y. M. C. A., one to pay for getting his pony shod, one to buy shoes and one to help pay his fare to Chicago for a visit. The number of children who have saving accounts speaks well for the growth of the thrift hab-it among the Dixon school children.

MILLER CALLS NEW BOARD FOR MEETING

NON-HIGH SCHOOL BOARD MUST LEVY TAX FOR TUITION OF PUPILS.

The County Superintendent of Schools, who is ex-officio secretary of the new county non-high school board of education, makes a meeting of the board at the county court house Saturday, Aug. 11th, at 2:30 p. m., for the purpose of organizing and lev-ying a tax on all non-high school prop-erty in the county, which, according to the recently passed law, is to be used to pay the tuition of pupils of high school age of non-high school districts to some high school in the county, releasing both the parents and the local school board from pay-ment of such tuition.

The members of the new county board, as elected last Saturday, are: Anna E. Risley, C. C. Buckaloo, and D. H. Spencer. They were elected by a vote of 78, 79 and 79 respectively.

Washington, Aug. 10—Evidence of a conspiracy among large packing in-terests to corner the entire tomato output of the Pacific coast has been discovered, it was said today at the office of the federal trade commis-sion.

CROWD TEARS DOWN ANTI-WILSON FLAG

Washington, Aug. 10—A banner displayed at one of the gates of the White house by a woman party suf-fragist picket reading "Kaiser Wil-son" was torn down today after an in-dignant crowd had jeered and hissed the suffragist for several minutes. The banner was carried by Miss Lucy Burns, who figured in several previ-ous demonstrations in front of the White House. It was inscribed "Kaiser Wilson, have you forgotten your sympathy with the poor Germans be-cause they are not self governed? 20 million American women are not self governed. Take the beam out of your eye."

While the entente guns still ram-mer the German lines in Flanders with a fury equal to that of the origi-nal bombardment, the infantry has not been inactive. Today important gains by both British and French on a seven mile front, taking in West-hoeke and Bischoffs, are reported. British forces last night finished driving the Germans from the town of Westhoek and cleared them from the lines they still clung to on the ridge near the town.

Not only in Belgium but along the stretches of the Arnas battle front, there are evidences of great activities by the entente forces.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

Washington, Aug. 10— Authority to make effective the government's program of insuring the armed forces of the nation was sought of congress today in bills introduced in both houses.

The proposed legislation would pro-vide insurance at minimum cost for rines, the insured men paying the premiums; family allowances to de-pendents to men in the nation's mili-tary or navy service; indemnifica-tions for disabilities and re-education and rehabilitation at government expense of the injured men.

A feature would make it comput-ory for officers and men to allot a minimum of $15 a month out of their salaries to dependent wives and chil-dren. The maximum monthly allow-ance would be one-half.

Liberal indemnities for partial and total disabilities are included in the program, varying from $40 to $75 a month minimum up to $200 a month for higher officers.

Insurance would be written on the lives of the men by the government at a rate of approximately $8 a thous and in sums from $1,000 to $10,000, the premium payable in installments. The total cost to the government for the two years is estimated at $556,650,000.

Play Mixed With Work at the Great Lakes Training Station

Boys Who Never Saw the Ocean Are Taught the Duties of a Sailor and Make Good Seamen

In Their Off Moments They Play Baseball, Box and Hold Other Athletic Meetings—Capt. Moffett Is Commandant

MORE than 10,000 young men from the colleges, factories, farms and offices of the middle west are learning at the United States naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., far from the tang of salt water, to be sailors, and many of them have not even seen the sea.

Of course there is Lake Michigan, abutting the training station at its very doorway, but it is surprising what one can learn about navigation and nautical tactics without even setting foot on shipboard.

In the middle of a grassy field are scattered the working parts of a battleship. On a swinging platform there is a steering wheel with its creaking rope and rigged with a naval compass. Here the recruit gets all the sensations of the pitching seas while he holds her headed into the teeth of a booming "son-wester." This contrivance and one affording training in the lowering and raising of boats are shown in the pictures.

Upon this field a large proportion of the men who have been sent into the navy since the declaration of war against Germany have been trained from raw material into deep sea sailor-men. About 20,000 have gone to sea from the station so far, and all of them have been trained on dry land.

Knotty problems in sailor's knots form a regular part of the recruit's day at the station. Before a bluejacket goes aboard ship he must be a master of "bends, hitches and splices" and the work is given every bit as much attention at the station as drill, physical training or boat practice. The recruit must qualify in the rigging loft before he can be rated a second class seaman. Here he is taught first to tie the simplest knot, known as the overhead knot and is that used in tying bundles. Bit by bit he progresses until he can tie the ropes in all manner of intricate fashion.

The names of some of these savor of the deep sea. For example, there are the figure eight, the overhead, the square, the tomfool, the diamond, the French shroud, the lanyard, the monkey's first, the semite, the double and single Matthew Walker, the marlinpike hitch, the back wall hitch, the short splice, long splice, eye splice, wire rope splice, the stopper knot and many others.

And finally when he is graduated from the rigging loft he can tie a bowline knot to make a ship fast as it docks as easily as he can prepare a bowline on a bight for the purpose of slinging casks or loading stores. All are experts on the square knot, for it is this knot that usually catches the eye of Captain W. A. Moffett, commandant, on inspection days.

Three kinds of rope are used by bluejackets in tying the knots—Manila, tarred hemp and untarred hemp. Wire hemp is used when the ordinary rope will not serve the purpose. And finally, after two or three months this fresh water "boy" knows almost as much about a ship's ropes as does the man who has spent years on the salt water.

From Farm to the Navy.

To the large proportion of them knowledge of navigation was confined to a catboat or a canoe on an inland river, and some of them, in fact, had never seen a large body of water until they peeped over the sea wall at the training station and saw the waters of Lake Michigan dimpling in the streaming sunlight below, but when they left a few months later to go aboard a cruiser, a battleship, a destroyer or a submarine they were sailors—fighters on active service. Many of these men have been reared on the farms of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri.

Some say life at this inland naval training station resembles nothing so much as a game of "make believe," even though it is in desperate seriousness and is fraught with import. For example, when a man is given "liberty" or a permission to leave the station he says he is going "ashore." When he scrubs his tent floor he is "scrubbing deck." The station is known as the "island," and the station clock is the "ship's clock," and when it is 5 o'clock it is not 5 o'clock as we know it in civil life, but "two bells."

The bluejackets have their own monthly magazine, the Great Lakes yeoman, Pat Smith of Bay City, Mich., captain elect of the University of Michigan football team, enlisted as a seaman, is in charge of the football squads. As nucleus for his team he has Raymond Haidner and Locks, holders of University of Michigan "Mr." and Phil Proctor of the University of Nebraska.

Boxing is one of the most popular sports at Great Lakes. Bouts are held every Thursday afternoon in a ring pitched in a natural amphitheater in a ravine on the reservation, and thousands of persons from the surrounding communities attend them.

Competition between the men of the service is keen. Each fighter seems to feel that he is to be the honor of his company. Chief Turret Captain Jack Kennedy, former champion of the north Atlantic fleet, is in charge of this part of the athletics. Ben Reuben, a Chicagoan and holder of the middle-weight wrestling title of the world, has enlisted as a second class machinist's mate and holds regular instruction classes on "breaks and holds" for the sailors. Coach Harry Hazelhurst of the Hamilton club of Chicago has enlisted in the United States naval reserve force as a second class yeoman. With the help of William Bachrach of the Illinois Athletic club he is teaching the recruits to swim.

One of the recruits has even installed a putting green and practices golf in his leisure hours. Baseball and boxing, however, are the favorite sports of the men. Almost any of the daylight hours you will see sailors engaged in batting and catching balls, while off at one side others are sparring.

In these days of stress and strife there is some competition for the title of "the busiest man," but Captain Moffett's assistants believe that he easily leads the field. It takes three relays of

Before a bluejacket goes aboard ship he must be a master of "bends, hitches and splices" and the work is given every bit as much attention at the station as drill, physical training or boat practice. The recruit must qualify in the rigging loft before he can be rated a second class seaman. Here he is taught first to tie the simplest knot, known as the overhead knot and is that used in tying bundles. Bit by bit he progresses until he can tie the ropes in all manner of intricate fashion.

The names of some of these savor of the deep sea. For example, there are the figure eight, the overhead, the square, the tomfool, the diamond, the French shroud, the lanyard, the monkey's first, the semite, the double and single Matthew Walker, the marlinpike hitch, the back wall hitch, the short splice, long splice, eye splice, wire rope splice, the stopper knot and many others.

And finally when he is graduated from the rigging loft he can tie a bowline knot to make a ship fast as it docks as easily as he can prepare a bowline on a bight for the purpose of slinging casks or loading stores. All are experts on the square knot, for it is this knot that usually catches the eye of Captain W. A. Moffett, commandant, on inspection days.

Three kinds of rope are used by bluejackets in tying the knots—Manila, tarred hemp and untarred hemp. Wire hemp is used when the ordinary rope will not serve the purpose. And finally, after two or three months this fresh water "boy" knows almost as much about a ship's ropes as does the man who has spent years on the salt water.

From Farm to the Navy.

To the large proportion of them knowledge of navigation was confined to a catboat or a canoe on an inland

Recruit, edited by themselves. It is a lively publication dominated by a strain of humor. It contains also reports of actual competition at the station, navy history and ship life, together with a few stories of the sea.

Although decorations are barred on a navy workday uniform and all jewelry and lodge or fraternity emblems go into the ditty box when the owner enlists, a number of the men recently have been wearing a button on their blue jacket showing that they have purchased a liberty bond. The men of the station purchased upward of $700,000 worth of the bonds, and theirs was the largest single amount devoted to this purpose by the men of any station, yard or ship in the navy.

With about 2,000 men in training at the station who have earned distinction in college or high school athletics interest in sports is widespread at this station. In fact, from the time the young American slips into his blue jacket until he leaves for sea duty sports form a big part of his daily life and help build up his muscles and morals. Dr. John B. Kaufman, passed assistant surgeon, U. S. N., is in charge of athletics. He is aided by the services of a number of civilian volunteers who hold high places in the athletic world.

Under the tutelage of Jimmy Sheekard, assistant manager of the Chicago Cubs, forty-eight baseball teams playing in leagues of the various camps of the station participate in the regularly scheduled games. Martin A. Delaney, physical director of the Chicago Athletic association, who was second in command of the American Olympic team at Stockholm, is the track and field coach.

Many Noted Athletes.

In each of the several big outdoor meads this summer more than a thousand blue jackets participated. Coach E. J. Mather of Lake Forest college also assists in track athletics, as does Captain J. Helberg of the Lake Forest track team, enlisted as a second class steno-graphers, called yeomen in the navy, to keep up with him. He rises shortly after daybreak and is usually at his desk until after midnight. Frequently it has been necessary for him to have his luncheon and dinner served on a tray in his office. He often transacts business while going to and from his home, giving interviews and conferences which he otherwise would have no time for. As an example of the pressure of his business, more than 200 visitors appeared at the station in one day not long ago and asked to see the commandant.

Captain Moffett displays a real personal interest in the station, and much of the routine work is delegated to others under his supervision, and he makes frequent inspections of details, and any complaint made by an enlisted man receives his hearing and attention.

Three times a day there are spirited combats with beefsteaks, called "half soles," with potatoes, called "spuds," with bread, called "punk," and butter that is called "grease," and perhaps a piece of pie, known as a "silver." A scene in a mess hall, of which there are about thirty on the station, resembles nothing so much as a college dining room.

Feeding this vast horde of 10,000 hungry boys is no small task, and their healthy outdoor life demands that they must be fed, and fed well, three times a day. According to Chief Commissary Stewart Craver, the blue-jacket who is unable to eat his share at mess has yet to be found. Mr. Craver has figured out that the food necessary for a single meal on the average day is about as follows: Seven thousand pounds of roast chicken, 2,000 pounds of mashed potatoes, 500 quarts of gravy, 15,000 radishes, 4,000 tomatoes, 1,000 pounds of green peas, 400 gallons of ice cream, 3,000 pounds of cake, 7,000 pounds of milk, 6,000 loaves of bread and about 5,000 quarts of coffee. A simple order of "ham and" for all hands calls for 1,440 dozen of eggs and 2,000 pounds of ham.

SOCIETY

Monday.
W. R. C. Meeting, G. A. R. Hall.

Has Knitting Machine

Is there any person in Dixon who has an attic so full of old fashioned treasures that such a thing as a knitting machine may be found therein? If so, why not institute a search and do as Miss Coons of Rockton, Ill., has done for the Rockford, Ill., Red Cross chapter? Mrs. A. A. Rowland sends the following clipping from a Rockford paper. Miss Coons is her aunt and Mrs. Rowland is planning to borrow the machine to give an exhibition in Dixon of its wonderful work:

Hundreds of callers were attracted to Red Cross membership headquarters yesterday afternoon to see the working of the little knitting machine demonstrated by Miss Ella Coons of Rockton.

If you didn't see that little bit of mechanism reeling off nice, warm stockings by the dozen you missed an opportunity that may not knock again at your door.

It requires deft fingers to install the first round of stitches and then presto, you turn the crank and noiselessly the tiny needles pick up the stitches, loop the thread through, and carry it to the next one so fast it is just one blur of gray yarn.

But Miss Coons kindly slowed up on the process and let the uninitiated see how it all happened and invited see how it all happened and invited many an ambitious caller to take a hand at the fascinating industry.

The society editor was invited to sit at the magical machine and the thrill of turning that crank is indescribable. Perhaps you know how you felt the first time you seized with an iron grip the steering gear of your auto. Well, that is not in it with taking your place before this wizard-like mechanism, and turning that crank and watching the needles fly while the stocking, exceeding the speed limit goes on and on forever. You don't have to stop for meals or anything else as long as the yarn holds out. When there is no more yarn, you just cut off the lengths as desired, put in a nice little heel and "toe it off" and there you are! A nice pair of soft gray socks for the soldier boy's weary feet.

It was suggested that the first pair knit by the society editor be put up at auction, the proceeds to go to the Red Cross, and the socks to the loved one of the highest bidder. "Ready, how much am I bid," says Miss Brantingham chairman of the work.

The knitting machine, which is the property of Miss Coons, is fifty years old, is in perfect repair, and will knit dainty wools as well as the heavier yarn for long marches. The owner may well feel a commendable pride in the machine, and the Red Cross officers are most grateful to her for her generous and timely assistance in turning out the smoothly knitted, well proportioned sock at this time that is demanding quantity, quality, and speed.

Was Guest of Honor

Mrs. Flo Jamison Miller of Monticello, chief speaker of the afternoon at the Patriotic Day of the Rock River Assembly, Thursday evening was the guest of honor at a scramble supper of the members of the Dixon Woman's Relief Corps. Earlier in the day the corps had presented through Mrs. Clara Goodrich, a beautiful flag to the Assembly. Mrs. Miller is a past national president of the Woman's Relief Corps and during her stay here was the guest of Mrs. Albertine McKenney.

Entertained Friends

Mr. and Mrs. C. Salzman entertained Mrs. Rear and daughter Louise and son Ben of Chicago, and Miss Helen Krug of Dixon at their home here yesterday.

On Lecture Tour

Mrs. Dolly Seebold leaves on a lecture tour soon, and will speak in various cities on biblical themes. She will first visit relatives in Rockford.

To Clinton and Erie

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schumm, Mr. and Mrs. John Schumm and daughters, the Misses Mary and Hattie Schumm, Mr. and Mrs. William Kime and two children, and little Miss Florence Wilson formed a motor party Sunday to Clinton, Iowa, and Erie, Ill.

On Leave of Absence

Lieut. C. P. Reid is home from Springfield on a few days' leave of absence to visit with his family.

FOUR WOMEN TESTIFY

Positive Proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Their Health.

Yonkers, N. Y.—"I suffered from a bad case of female trouble, backache, nervousness and indigestion. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed."—Mrs. H. J. L. FEATHER, 61 Hamilton Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.

Danville, Ill.—"I would not be alive today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it cured me from a severe case of female trouble."—Mrs. O. A. COE, Easttown Road, Danville, Ill.

Ridgway, Pa.—"I wish all women who suffer from female troubles would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I avoided a surgical operation by its use."—Mrs. O. M. RHINES, Ridgway, Pa.

North Haven, Conn.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed when passing through change of life. There is nothing like it to overcome these trying symptoms."—Mrs. FLORENCE ISZELLA, Box 137, North Haven, Conn.

The many glowing testimonials constantly published in the newspapers ought to be proof enough to women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they need.

Two Ashton Weddings

Ashton Gazette: Last Wednesday evening, at 8:00 o'clock, at the Central Christian church in Rockford, occurred the wedding of Miss Norma Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Page of Rockford, and Mr. Oliver D. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Thomas of Bradford town ship. The ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. M. Clemmer, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bride wore a white pussy willow silk, and georgette crepe dress set off with a pink girdle, and wearing pink slippers to match. The bride carried a large bouquet of pink and white roses.

The bridesmaid was dressed similarly. Miss Page is a graduate of the Brown's Business College of Rockford and has many friends in that city.

The groom wore a suit of dark blue and was attended by best man, Mr. Thomas is well known in this vicinity, having lived here all his life prior to going to Rockford. He has a position with the Bell Telephone Company in that city. They will make their home in Rockford for the present, where both have a large circle of friends.

Women's Work

Of course we've heard so much of women taken men's places to release the men that they might take their places on the European battle fronts and now that the draft is sitting out the men who are big enough in body and heart and soul to go, it is coming nearer to us, but it takes a little advertisement like that given below, clipped from a paper of one of the neighboring towns to make us see how near the time really is when conditions, obtaining in European countries with the women at the helm in factory or field, will be realized here:

Notice

On account of man help being scarce we are going to use woman help feeding corn husking machines and other light work. We are now booking applications. The wages will be 20 cents per hour, and the work will be during the cabbage corn and pumpkin season.

SYCAMORE PRESERVE WORKS.

W. C. Darling, Manager.

With Miss Geisler

Eleven members and a number of their guests—Mrs. Clinton Wilhelm and daughter Bernice, Mrs. Mitchell and two children, of Sterling, Miss Grace Miller of Franklin Grove, and Mrs. Roy Barron—attended the meeting of the St. James Aid Society held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Nada Geisler. Scripture reading and the roll call were followed by interested discussion of the fall bazaar and of the ice cream social to be held the coming Tuesday evening, August 14th. Miss Geisler served appetizing refreshments. The society was invited to hold its next meeting with Mrs. William Capitill of St. James.

Club Hears of Army Camps

See, J. Der Kinderen of the Y. M. C. A. spoke Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the City Alt Club, held at the home of Mrs. Dwight Rolph, telling the members very interestingly of the Y. M. C. A. Army camps, towards which the club recently contributed five dollars. Three guests of the club, besides a large quota of the members, were present. The guests were Mrs. Roy Wolber, Mrs. Ray Slobower of Rockville, and Mrs. Bonin of Chicago, who is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Guy Merriman. Mrs. Rolph served a luncheon in the dining room, sweet peas and pink shaded candelas decorating the table.

W. R. C. Meeting

The Woman's Relief Corps will meet in regular session Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in G. A. R. hall.

Entertains Lee Co. Lawyers

Atty. Harry Warner, head of the Lee County Bar Association, will entertain all the members of the Lee County Bar at luncheon tomorrow at Lowell Park Lodge.

Cole-Davison

Two weeks ago last Thursday at the Washington Grove Christian parsonage occurred the wedding of Miss Daisy Davison and Mr. Leo Cole of this city. Rev. Fremont McCague performed the ceremony.

Miss Davison is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davison and has lived in this community all her life. Mr. Cole is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cole of Honey Creek and has worked in this city for some years. After the ceremony the couple went to his parents' to visit. It is not known where the young couple will reside but at present will stay with his folks.

Mrs. Howard Lewis of Evanston, nee Nellie Moore, is a guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Abner Bartlow. This evening she will be entertained at the Dr. Ives home. Mrs. Lewis expects to return to Evanston.

On Vacation Visit

Mr. and Mrs. George Ivin and little daughter are here from Mason City, Iowa, for a two weeks' vacation visit at the Fred Hammen home. J. T. Anderson of Minneapolis, Minn., connected with the John Deere Plow Company there, was here Saturday to visit his brother Robert Anderson, of 812 Third St.

To Lake Geneva

Dr. E. C. Lumsden will leave Monday for Lake Geneva where he will give bible readings on themes from the Old Testament at the Epworth League Institute held at Conerence Point. He will be gone all week. Mrs. Lumsden and their son Newell will accompany him.

Visited in Indiana

Mrs. Anna Craig has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Fleming, of South Bend, Ind. She was accompanied home by her daughter, Miss Emma, who has been visiting her sister for the past month.

Fall Days and Fall Togs

Just a hint of the mellow autumn days and the shop windows reveal to the eager-eyed shopper, who is beginning to feel trumpy in her summer gowns and hats, clothes of the early autumn. Fall hats are being shown in most of the millinery display windows while here and there the fall street suit and gown is hobnobbing with the summer clothes and fairly elbowing them out.

Black hats predominate as they do every fall, as tired of the summer's riot of color we seek something more quiet and restful. There are black sailor hats finished manly, with a broad band and bow, clever little hats with pliable brims, made of black velvet, and promising to be very popular, and large black hats with sweeping brims. Of course there are hats of various shades, as well as the black, and the soft tones of old tapestries will be much used, it is said.

As for gowns, something entirely new is promised in the convenient coat gown, and so far the sensible one piece gowns, midnight blue serges, although there will be many coat and skirt suits, seem to be to the fore in the show windows.

Drying Fruits

To avoid the loss of juice, cherries should be dried without removing the pits, says today's bulletin from the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, which is co-operating with this paper in its nationwide campaign for the prevention of waste of the food resources of the country. Wash carefully, remove surface moisture by pouring on a paper and then spread on trays in single layer to dry. Wash carefully, remove surface moisture by pouring on a paper and then spread on trays in single layer to dry. Drying by artificial heat will require from two to four hours.

Peaches and apricots should be dipped in boiling water until the skin slips, cold-dipped for a moment, peeled, stoned and cut in halves. Place pit side up on trays for drying.

Plums may be washed, cut in halves and the pits removed, and then treated the same as peaches.

Apples, Pears, and Quinces should be pared, cored and sliced. To prevent discoloration, dip the slices of fruit for a moment directly into cold water containing an ounce of salt to the gallon. If preferred, the whole fruit may be cored after peeling and then cut cross-wise into rings; these rings being dipped into the salted water as above. Do not let fruit remain in the water more than a few minutes. Remove surface moisture and place on drying trays in single layers. After slicing, pears and quinces may be steamed or boiled a few minutes before drying.

Dry all fruits till leathery and pliable but not until brittle. Properly dried fruits should be free from moisture when pressed between the fingers.

All dried products must be conditioned for several days before storing by pouring by pouring from one box to another for several days to mix thoroughly. All moist pieces should be returned to the drier.

Store in tight tin or paper boxes or bags in place free from moisture, insects and vermin and, for convenience, label containers. Seal tops of cans and boxes with paraffin and tie tops of bags tightly.

Complete directions will be sent to any address for a two-cent stamp, by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, 215 Maryland Bldg., Washington, D. C.

Meaning of "How."

Most white people think that the Indian word of greeting, "How," is merely the abbreviation of the question, "How are you?" but that is not so. The word is really "aon," which means "brother" or "friend." So when he comes up and greets out his seemingly inquisitive "How," he is not asking after your health, but telling you that he is a friend.—Youth's Companion.

LANSING'S GREAT SPEECH.

"Certain senators of the wobbly-kneed sort—Reed, Stone, Hardwick and that ilk—are disturbed over a speech Secretary of State Lansing made to 1500 students at Madison Barracks, N. Y., the other day," says the Chicago Evening Post.

"It was in many respects a great speech and one that should be read by every American. It went with unsparing directness to the heart of the issue between this country and Germany; it answered conclusively the question, 'Why are we at war?'"

"If the disturbed senators were as much concerned for the triumph of American principles and American arms as they are for the susceptibilities of some of their pro-German constituents they would use their franking privilege to see that the speech reached a vast multitude of readers."

"The authority with which Secretary Lansing speaks should be kept in mind when his words are before us. No man in the Wilson cabinet is so familiar with the inside history of international affairs from a time long preceding the present war as secretary of state. He speaks with knowledge more intimate than the president and wider and deeper than any of the other secretaries. For 25 years he has been in touch with the department of state. He married the daughter of John W. Foster, secretary of state in the cabinet of President Harrison, when he was 26, immediately before his admission to the bar, and his relationship to that able man turned his attention toward international law. He represented the U. S. as counsel in the Behring Sea arbitration, on the Behring Sea claims commission, on the Alaskan boundary tribunal, in the arbitration of the North Atlantic coast fisheries question at The Hague and as agent in the American and British claims arbitration in 1912-14. In March, 1914, he was made counselor for the department of state, and in June, 1915, succeeded Mr. Bryan as Secretary of State."

"When Secretary Lansing speaks he speaks with the records under his eye—records that few eyes in this country have seen—and he speaks with the authority of a mind long trained to interpret the ways and words of diplomacy."

"And here is What Sec. Lansing said:

"The immediate cause of our war with Germany—the breaking of her promises as to indiscriminate warfare—has a far deeper meaning, a meaning which has been growing more evident as the war has progressed, and which needed but this act of perfidy to bring it home to all thinking Americans. The evil character of the German government is laid bare before the world. We know now that government is inspired with ambitions which men ace human liberty, and that to gain its end it does not hesitate to break faith and violate the sacred rights, or to perpetuate the intolerable acts of inhumanity."

"It needed but the words reported to have been uttered by the German Chancellor to complete the picture of the character of his government when he announced the only reason why he delayed the intensified submarine campaign until February last was that sufficient submarines could not be built before that time to make the attacks on commerce efficient."

"Do you realize that this means, if it means anything, that the promises to refrain from brutal submarine warfare were never intended to be kept, that they were only made in order to gain time in which to build more submarines, and that when the time came to act the German promises were unhesitatingly torn to pieces, like other 'scraps of paper'?"

"It is this disclosure of the character of the imperial German government which is the underlying cause of our entry into the war. We had doubted, or at least many Americans had doubted, the evil purposes of the rulers of Germany. Doubt remained no longer. In the light of events we could read the past and see that for a quarter of a century the absorbing ambition of the military oligarchy which was the master of the German empire was for world dominion."

"The future of the United States is at stake. If any of you have the idea that we are fighting others' battles and not our own, the sooner he gets away from that idea the better it will be for him, the better it will be for all of us."

"Imagine German victory in Europe because the United States remained neutral. Who, then, think you, would be the next victim of those who are seeking to be masters of the whole earth? Would not this country, with its enormous wealth, arouse the cupidity of an impoverished triumphant Germany? Would not this democracy be the only obstacle between the autocratic rulers of Germany and their supreme ambition? Do you think they would withhold their hand from so rich a prize?"

"Let me ask you, then, would it be easier or wiser for this country, single-handed, to resist a German empire flushed with victory and with the great armies and navies at its command than to unite with the brave enemies of that empire in ending now and for all time this menace to our future?"

"You have heard words like these from the lips of others, and you have thought, perhaps, that they were words of alarmists, of the man who imagines evil things. But here they stand from the deliberate lips of the man who for a quarter of a century has fought in the courts of the world for the rights of America under international law and who since the beginning of the war has been at a post of duty for the American people—an observation post—where nothing has escaped him of importance to their welfare."

"The peril to this country is real, even tho at the hour it is remote by the measurement of miles. We are engaged in no quixotic emprise, no idealistic and sacrificial adventure overseas in behalf of Belgium or France or Great Britain. Our khaki line on foreign soil is fighting for the peace and security of American homes. The man or the newspaper that argues otherwise is a traitor to America."

Important Trifles.

The most trifling actions that affect a man's credit are to be regarded. LOWDEN GIVES LAST PROPOSAL ON COAL

Operators Must Act by 16th or Seizure Will Follow.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.

Governor Lowden came to Chicago by motor to give the coal operators one last chance to reduce the price of fuel before acting on the recommendation of the state council of defense that he seize and operate Illinois coal mines. He has been in session with the operators and in conference with governors of several states.

He is prepared to act. He has studied carefully the report of the law committee of the state council that he has the power and also has approved it.

It is ascertained that he has placed his stamp of approval on the seizure program, and if the coal operators do not come to terms before Aug. 16—the date set for the conference of representatives of mid-west states—the governor will announce that he is going ahead to take over and operate every coal mine in the state.

UNION LEADER IS ARRESTED

President Tri-City Federation of Labor, Is Taken During Speech.

MOLINE, ILL., Aug. 10.

Charles MacGowan, president of the Tri-City Federation of Labor, with which all union men of Moline and Rock Island, Ill., and Davenport, Ia., are affiliated, including employees of the government arsenal at Rock Island, has been arrested by secret service men.

Oliver Griffin, said to be an I. W. W., was also arrested. It is hinted that MacGowan's arrest is not entirely due to his activity with the strike in the Rock Island storehouse. MacGowan was in the midst of a fiery speech at a secret meeting of strikers in East Moline when secret service men rushed into the room.

"Isn't That Just Like a Man"

YOU'VE seen your husband go into a store and pick out, say, a tie, or a shirt. When he found something he liked; he said, 'I'll take it'—and that was the first time he thought to ask the price. "Isn't that just like a man," you said.

You women buyers don't do that. You first find out about the values—you judge the quality of fabrics and workmanship—you know what's good and you know pretty nearly what it ought to cost. It's only after you've made certain of the value that you make your selection.

We believe this is the reason why more and more women customers are buying at this store since we inaugurated our right selling plan. They've found that they actually do save money here every day in the year.

DEVICE TO DETECT U BOATS AT SEA

Hope to Locate Submarines
Ten Miles Away.

MAY ATTACK GERMAN BASES

Experts Agree That German Submarines Must Be Eliminated Before the War Is Won—Undersea Explosive Has Played a Large Part in Combating the Menace.

The navy department's twofold program in this war, based partly upon the prospect of perfecting a device to detect submarines at ten miles, has been outlined to the press.

If the device is perfected—and the best brains in this country are secretly working on it day and night—a cordon of destroyers will bottle the U boats at their base. If it is not a combined naval and aerial attack must be made upon the German coast and the occupied coast of Belgium. The submarine, it is agreed, must be eliminated before the war is won.

Expect Success Soon.

The general board feels that the present method of fighting the submarine menace is merely a makeshift and that it will never make the seas safe for merchantmen, no matter how well the surface is controlled by the allied navies. Some success has been achieved with the mechanism of detecting submarines, but the invention has yet to be perfected. Within the next few months it is believed that the mechanical experts who are working on the device will be able to report to the navy department that it is ready for service.

In the event that this invention proves its value as a detector over a range of ten miles it is the purpose of the American navy to establish a line across the Skagerrak, another across the English channel and another across the North sea in front of the German coast. Other lines of detectors will be stretched across the various waters where the submarines operate.

The first consideration, however, will be to get an underwater detector across the channels used by the submarines in leaving and entering their bases. When this is accomplished the submarine fighters which are now attempting to pick up the submarines will be drawn in a solid line in connection with the detectors.

Undersea Explosive.

When the underwater raiders attempt to leave their bases they will be spotted by the detectors. The surface craft will then get a line on them, and it is believed that it will be virtually impossible for them to make their way to the trade routes.

The detection invention represents the great scientific contribution which the United States has been reported to have in the making. Heretofore its nature was never explained publicly.

Already the United States navy has had great success with the underwater explosive, which is dropped into the water and explodes upon contact with the submarine. These will be used extensively in the new campaign.

The general board of the navy has under consideration a terrific naval and aerial attack upon the German coast and upon the coast of Belgium now controlled by the Germans. The navy experts believe that it would be inadvisable to attempt to make this attack until thousands of aeroplanes are available to carry out the campaign.

This joint attack will have to await the completion of the American aerial fleet, and therefore it cannot be engineered before next year. Naval experts realize that this attack, if successful, would be extremely expensive in life.

The army and navy joint councils are satisfied that it is hopeless at present to try to break through the western line and that no successful attack can be made until the German bases are destroyed and a force is landed on the German coast. Before this program can be carried out they agree that the submarine must be eliminated.

Since the United States entered the war the younger naval officers have urged the administration to suggest to Great Britain the advisability of making a naval drive at the German coast to destroy the submarine base. Vice Admiral Sims, in command of the American naval forces in European waters, has reported that such an attack would not be feasible at this time. Plans for a great naval engagement have been worked out, but their consummation depends upon factors which cannot now be brought into play.

At the present time the United States has every available ship of the minor class in European waters assisting the British fleet in destroying submarines. Just as rapidly as more ships are sent down the ways they will be sent abroad.

Sacrifice.

No action has been taken by Governor Capner regarding the appeal of Arthur R. Cutler of Kansas City, Kan., a cripple, that he be allowed to serve a sentence in the state reformatory in place of his brother, who wants to be free to join the army. Governor Capner stated there apparently was no way by which the boy's plea could be granted.

BUYING SUPPLIES IS A GREAT TASK

Quartermaster General Providing For a Million Men.

BUYS 343 DIFFERENT ITEMS

There Are Forty-nine Different Purchases on Ration List and Twenty-nine Articles of Clothing—Quality of Everything Is Tested by Experts and Must Come Up to Standard.

Supplies for a million men—a year's needs of everything from beef to shoe strings and from cots to candy—is a measure of the task which Quartermaster General Sharpe's office has in providing for America's new armies, says a war department statement.

Nearly 300,000 tons of fresh beef (307,628,240 pounds) is one item, and besides that there is canned corned and canned roast beef, totaling nearly 8,000,000 pounds more, without including the canned corned beef hash, also among the items.

All told 343 different items of supplies appear in the quartermaster general's list of rations for issue and sale of clothing and of equipment. The figures given here are on the basis of supplying soldiers located in the United States, so give no help in computing additional needs of this country resulting from military participation in the war.

Forty-nine Items on Ration List.

Regular rations of Uncle Sam's soldiers call for a list of forty-nine items. In it are over 29,000,000 pounds of coffee, four kinds of tea and over 25,000 tons of granulated sugar, over 800,000 gallons of cucumber pickles, over 380,000 cans of black pepper and cinnamon, cloves, ginger and nutmeg, toasting 372,900 cans; over 480,700,000 pounds of potatoes, over 55,200,000 pounds of onions, over 300,000,000 pounds of flour, besides hard bread, nearly 1,000,000 gallons of cane sirup; lemon and vanilla flavoring extracts; over 8,200,000 pounds of lard, and over 7,300,000 pounds of butter; canned and dried fish, canned vegetables, evaporated apples and peaches, etc.

The variety of fare possible in regular rations is increased by a list of items for sale to soldiers at cost. The sale list totals 155 items, largely foodstuffs, but including also shaving mugs, pencils, pins, pens, shoe polish, letter paper (22,320 quires), 48,300 pipes, 22,320 razors, toilet articles (among which are 148,800 cans of talcum powder and 3,720 bottles of toilet water), 11,160 spools of thread, etc.

The foodstuffs in the sale list include canned mushrooms, a variety of canned fruits, vegetables, fish and meats, pickles, maple sirup, ginger ale, sauces, sausage, 305,000 pints of effervescent water, etc.

Twenty-nine Articles of Clothing.

Regular articles of clothing are twenty-nine in number. These are figured on initial requirements and upkeep for the first nine months. Here are a few of the items: Belts, 2,000,000; coats, cotton, 2,400,000; coats, woolen, 1,270,000; service hats, 1,825,000; shoe laces, 7,200,000; overcoats, 1,675,000.

Equipment includes ninety articles. Among them are 130,500 axes, 3,450,000 blankets, 23,000 bugles, 1,900,000 cots, 1,140,250 tents of seven kinds, over 1,000,000 gross of buttons, 39,000,000 yards of cotton cloth, etc.

Estimating quantities needed is only a step in the task of supplying an army. Things must be bought—quality tested, contracts made, prices determined, delivery—and then come the problems of transportation, storage and distribution.

This shows a part of the country's great war work, on which thousands of people are daily working "to make the world safe for democracy."

GREAT CROPS PREDICTED.

Head of Reclamation Bureau Sees Records in All but Wheat.

C. J. Blanchard, chief statistician of the government's land reclamation bureau in Chicago, after making a tour of the west and surveying the prospect for this year's food output from reclamation of farms, said:

"We have a whale of a crop coming up out there—the greatest in the nation's history."

Mr. Blanchard visited Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Utah, Idaho, Nebraska and South Dakota. The one gloomy outlook is the lack of farm labor, he said. "The boys on the farms, imbued with that truly patriotic duty, have left the plows for the army and navy," he added.

"Many sons of farmers enlisted. What the government should do is to recruit an army of 500,000 for farm work and start at the harvest time in the south. Then as they complete their work and as the weather grows warmer up north move the army gradually to the northern states."

Statistics assembled by Mr. Blanchard show that last year's yield from reclamation farms represented a total value of $23,000,000. At least $5,000,000 will be added to the valuation this year, he believes. The gross return an acre last year was $38, but this year, he says, it will be more than $40. The increase of acreage will be 150,000 acres, he said.

ASSEMBLY NOTES

Dixon's quartet sang splendidly yesterday afternoon. When these favorites are booked to sing there is usually a large crowd to hear them. The members of the quartet are Mesdames Kittie Ballou, Lee Read, and Messrs. Elmer Rice and Clinton Fairney.

Rev. A. T. Robinson will fill the pulpit at St. Paul's Lutheran church Sunday morning. Rev. Robinson is making a big hit with his splendid lectures at the assembly.

Misses Nellie and Lessie Felgar of West Point, Ill., are visiting here for the remainder of the season.

Miss Leah Lawson is a guest at camp "Nobody at Home."

Miss Sylvia Dornbush of "Sunnyside" camp has returned to Gardenplain.

Miss Myrtle Clark of Gardenplain is visiting at the "Sunnyside" camp. The camp is composed of school teachers from Whiteside county, and the young ladies are enjoying themselves immensely.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Warner and daughters, Dora and Ruth, of Prophetstown are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Olive Petty, who are enjoying their life at the assembly.

ALIEN SLACKER ACT IS CERTAIN

Senate Military Committee Is Unanimous Says Smoot.

EXEMPTS MAY BE RECALLED

Draft Regulations Will Be Modified So as to Widen Scope for Height, Sight, Hearing, Teeth and Chest Expansion—Many Exempted Will Be Taken in Second Test.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 10.—That members of the United States senate military committee are unanimous in favor of changing the draft law to make unaturalized citizens liable to conscription was the substance of a telegram received by Q. R. Kelly, president of the Bingham Commercial club, from United States Senator Reed Smoot.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Revised regulations to govern physical examination of men registered under the selective draft were issued by Surgeon General Gorgas of the army and communicated to the governors of the states for information of local boards. The changes deal for the most part with questions of proportionate weight and height, but may result in the recall of some men rejected heretofore on physical grounds.

The new regulations grant an underweight allowance of from five to six pounds for men between sixty-four and sixty-seven inches in height, seven to nine pounds between sixty-seven and sixty-nine inches, nine to ten pounds between seventy and seventy-four inches, and twelve pounds above seventy-five inches. The effect of the instructions is to reduce the normal weight requirements for tall men.

An additional half-inch allowance on chest expansion also is allowed to men above sixty-eight inches in height where there is no sign of disease.

Men with poor teeth also will be more closely scrutinized hereafter. Where dental work will restore the teeth they will either be enrolled and the work done by army dentists or allowed time to have the work done for themselves.

Ears and Eyes Modified.

A punctured ear drum is found to be no barrier provided the hearing is half normal. Modifications are made also in sight requirements which will give physicians wider latitude in accepting some defects of vision.

Provost Marshal General Crowder has urged prompt action by the local boards in certifying as held for service men who make no claim for discharge or exemption. A daily report to the district boards is required at the close of each day's work, and similarly district boards will report each night to the adjutant general the men finally accepted.

"The government will call upon local and district boards to furnish one-third of their quota on Sept. 1," General Crowder's message says, under the heading: "The first call to the colors." "Every person concerned in the execution of the law will feel that a prompt and accurate response to this call of the nation is the precise result for which he has labored so long, so ardently and with such unselfish devotion."

Then follow the requirements for daily reports of progress as outlined which General Crowder says are inserted "to point the way to expedition and in order to insure that no state and no local board shall be placed in the unenviable position of not being able to answer 'here' with the full third of its quota on the day named."

Examine All Possible.

Local boards are urged not to stop examining men when the quota has been reached. The boards should be certain beyond doubt that enough men have been certified, the statement says, adding:

"The more men examined, the more complete will be the repose of the public mind and the minds of the men whose cases would otherwise remain undecided."

In another supplemental ruling General Crowder states that men serving prison terms for misdemeanors are not exempt by reason of the fact. If the peace authorities will not release them for military service, they will be required to present themselves for examination when their prison terms have been completed.

Former Star Passes Naval Test.

Detroit, Aug. 10.—Slipping quietly up two flights of stairs, Justin (Nig) Clarke, former baseball star, stripped before recruiting officers of the United States Marine corps and passed the physical examination. He will take the oath Sunday, standing behind the plate in Navin field, where he has stood many times as catcher of the Cleveland team.

Peru's Sympathy With U. S. in War.

Lima, Peru, Aug. 10.—The Peruvian senate adopted a resolution expressing the sympathy of Peru with the motive of the United States, as declared by President Wilson, for participating in the European conflict.

Impatience.

Beware of the first impatient word, likely to rouse resentment, but take especial heed to the second one, for after a moment of second thought, it is the more likely to exasperate the hearer, by its unreasonableness.

WRITES OF TIME OF THE CIVIL WAR

C. W. DEY'S LETTER IS READ TO OLD SOLDIERS AT MEETING YESTERDAY.

The following letter from Comrade C. W. Dey was read yesterday morning before the reunion of the veterans of the Grand Army, holding their annual reunion at Assembly park: George D. John.

Dear Comrade—Yours of the 31st ult. just at hand. Regret that your Sterling Gazette, fixed Captain told my name, as I was not even a Ninth corporal's clerk. Just a private at the foot of Co. C, 12 6th Regiment, New York Volunteer Infantry. I am sorry not to be with you on this ninth instant, but know that you will be welcome, welcome, welcome, and hope you will come in such numbers as to make every man of that Grandest Army (the Army of the Potomac) with pride that he was a part of it. The rank and file of that army was loyal to Hunter, to McClellan, Pope, Burnside, Hooker and Mead, that it never wavered in patriotic loyalty to the government. I belonged as I believe to the best company, regiment, brigade, division and corps in the Army of the Potomac, the Second, commanded by the Veteran Major Generals, Sumner, Couch, Hancock, Sedgwick, French, Hayes, Warren, Mott, Barlow, Caldwell, Humphreys, and a short time in 1865, by Maj. Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

Maj. Gen. Winfield S. Hancock, in a letter to General U. S. Grant, dated August, 1864, says: "It is perhaps known to you that this corps had never lost a color or a gun previous to this campaign, though oftener and more desperately engaged than any corps in the army or perhaps in any other in the country. I have not the means of knowing exactly the number of guns and colors captured, but I saw myself nine in the hands of one division at Antietam, and the official reports show that 34 fell into the hands of that corps at Gettysburg. Before the opening of this campaign it had at least captured one-half hundred colors, though at a cost of over 25,000 casualties. During this campaign you can judge how well this corps has performed its part. It has captured more guns and colors than all the rest of them combined. Its reverses have not been many, and then only when the corps had dwindled to a remnant of its former strength, after it had lost 25 brigade commanders and over 100 regimental commanders and over 20,000 men.

"You were with us and you are certainly welcome. We are now engaged in a war across the sea and we have among us men who in those trying times were known as Copperheads, now designated as pacifists—same old traitors. We are also represented in Congress and the United States Senate by men that Nuxated Iron won't save at the next election. Yours in F. C., and L., C. W. DEY.

THE SHADOW OF THE FLAG

The breath of joy was in the air,
A Maytime beauty everywhere,
Yet dark beneath my feet it lay
As 'twere a blot upon the day.
A shadow hovering and free
I looked to understand—and, lo,
The shadow of the flag!

The sweet winds from the orchard came,
They caught each scarlet stripe aflame,
The white stars gleamed upon their blue.
A glorious banner 'twas to view,
But as it flitted and floated free
The sun played hide and seek to see
The shadow of the flag.

Emerging from the storm cloud's wrack,
A phantom army struggles back,
To English and Canadian home,
Exhausted, broken, maimed, they come,
A mighty sacrifice to pay,
Survivors of war's holocaust,
The shadows of the flag.

And millions 'neath the torn ground lie,
Unfolding death's mystery,
Their youth was fair; they gave it all,
Uprising at the trumpet call,
Was need to give it? Answer ye
Who sent to immortality
These shadows of the flag.

O God, omnipotent, bend down;
Compel a world in chaos throne;
Man's power is naught; thy power is still
The same that spoke from Sinai's hill.
Speak now, with stern authority,
That children of war's holocaust
Such shadows of our flag.

WILSON URGES YOUNG
TO MASTER SCIENCES

Will Be Needed in War, He Says.
Wants Schools to Keep Courses Open.

Educational institutions have been urged by President Wilson to maintain their normal courses in the various branches of applied science, so far as possible, during the war. In a letter to Secretary of Interior Lane the president called attention to the fact that any unnecessary limit on the development of trained men would lessen the country's chances for success.

The letter was written in response to a question by Secretary Lane as to advising colleges and especially technical institutions to continue their present courses. The president's answer reads:

"The question which you have brought to my attention is of the very greatest moment. It would, as you suggest, seriously impair America's prospects of success in this war if the supply of highly trained men were unnecessarily diminished.

"There will be need for a larger number of persons expert in the various fields of applied science than ever before. Such persons will be needed both during the war and after its close. I therefore have no hesitation in urging colleges and technical schools to endeavor to maintain their courses as far as possible on the usual basis.

"There will be many young men from these institutions who will serve in the armed forces of the country. Those who fall below the age of selective conscription and who do not enlist may feel that by pursuing their courses with eagerness and diligence they also are preparing themselves for valuable service to the nation.

"I would particularly urge upon the young people who are leaving our high schools that as many of them as can do so avail themselves this year of the opportunities offered by the colleges and technical schools to the end that the country may not lack an adequate supply of trained men and women."

Lowell McAdams, athlete and banker, whose fortune is placed at between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000.
Leroy Reidman, former coxswain of the Stanford university crew and banker, whose bank account uses up a good many figures.

Leroy Linnard, son of D. M. Linnard, manager of three large hotels in Pasadena and one in San Francisco, whose wealth exceeds $10,000,000.

Thaddeus Updegriff, social leader, whose fortune is estimated all the way from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

HOW A DESTROYER
EVADES U BOATS

Speed and Skillful Handling
Keep Submarines Wary.

REPORTER SEES ATTACK

Torpedo Missed Its Mark by a Scant
Six Feet Swarm of Fast Patrols
Making It Increasingly Perilous For Germans to Show Themselves Above the Surface.

Just how a British destroyer acts when attacked by a submarine was unexpectedly demonstrated to a correspondent while traveling on one of the modern oil driven torpedo boat destroyers from England to France.

The correspondent had been taken aboard the destroyer for the purpose of observing British methods of combating the submarine menace, when the boat was suddenly attacked by a U boat, a torpedo missing it by a scant six feet, thanks to the vigilance and quick action of the crew.

The destroyer was one of a certain number which were conveying in the usual manner some large transports carrying British troops to France. The group of ships was halfway across the channel when suddenly one of the lookouts spied a pair of periscopes rise for a moment a few inches out of the water a half mile away. They were gone the next instant, but almost before they had gone came the shout, "Submarine on port bow!" accompanied by a shrill call of warning from the destroyer's whistle and the fluttering out of the flag which notified every other ship in the convoy of the enemy's presence.

Guns Brought to Bear.

On every ship things began to happen more quickly than the telling. Guns were swung in the direction from which the periscopes had been seen, ready to speak if the periscopes appeared again. Torpedo tubes likewise were swung into line, and the numerous anti-submarine devices along deck were in the hands of their skilled expert crews.

But even while this was being done came the torpedo, plainly visible from the deck, its gleaming brass body gliding in the bright sunlight, its propellers pushing it at express train speed straight toward the destroyer. Something was wrong with the mechanism of this particular torpedo, for it should have traveled twelve or fifteen feet below the surface. Instead, it came bounding along in plain sight, now and then leaping out of the water, like a flat stone made to skip over the surface.

Even thus it might have found its target but for the presence of mind of the sixty-year-old coxswain. He had been first to sight the periscopes and had rushed immediately to an emergency lever, whereby he instantly stopped the port engine, thus swinging the ship with a lurch to the left. The torpedo whizzed through the water six feet behind the stern of the destroyer, its gradually lessening speed as it sank into the swirl of the engines indicating that its possibilities for mischief were nearly done.

Except for the coxswain's action in twisting the ship from its course, the missile would apparently have made a square hit in the stern magazine.

Meanwhile the wireless was at work notifying the hundreds of patrols in all directions that the enemy was near. "We sighted a submarine on the port bow, just off blank buoy, 2:03 p. m. Torpedo passed just behind our stern, missing us. We are proceeding with our convoy," said the captain's message.

Many Vessels Quickly in Pursuit.

It was caught simultaneously, ashore and afloat, by a hundred vigilant war, less operators. The destroyer's captain, according to his orders, must not leave his convoy to seek out and attack the U boat. Others would attend to that. Already they were gathering for the chase—trawlers, chasers, drifters, destroyers. Even a dirigible airship far off on the horizon had caught the wireless call and with the quick turn of a seagull was swooping down to the pursuit.

The transports and destroyers, although fairly confident that the U boat would scarcely dare show herself again, even for a pot shot, were nevertheless taking every precaution. Every ship was at full speed, oil burning destroyers constantly protecting their charges.

The whole attack occupied bare seconds. Convoy and charges were out of range in a few minutes at the most. Nowhere had there been the slightest pause or flurry, but movements of men and ships made with almost automatic precision and speed. The efficiency of the British naval man is the efficiency of clockwork. Every cog knows its place. There is no meddling, no clashing, no interference, but a confident rapid efficiency which somehow demands the use of the adjective "deadly."

Twenty minutes later the transports were safe in their port of destination, and the destroyer convoy was off again, thirty miles an hour, down the coast to its next appointment.

Meanwhile the business of seeking out the enemy was going on in the line of submarine hunters which had gathered around "Blank buoy." Just how the work was done and just what was the result it is not permitted to tell.

VACATION

The young idea's happy,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
Each gill and each chapplie,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
Vacation time is coming,
And the place is fairly humming
With the joys they fast are summing,
Hurrah! Hurrah!

The schoolbooks they are shut up,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
The boys prepare to cut up,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
While mothers all are sighing
Over peaceful days now dying,
And they join not in the crying
Of hurrah! Hurrah!

How the busy feet are turning,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
From the thorny path of learning,
Hurrah! Hurrah!
To the green wide world of pleasure
With delights to youth past measure,
When each hour is a treasure,
Hurrah! Hurrah!

craft Production Board.

When Orville and Wilbur Wright built and flew the first man carrying flying machine they believed they were making wars impossible. Now, with the greatest war in history at a dead lock because of the equality of aerial equipment, a great increase in the allied aerial forces is the one way to end it, Orville Wright asserts. In endorsing the program of the aircraft production board Mr. Wright declares that "if the allies' armies are equipped with such a number of airplanes as to keep the enemy planes entirely back of the line, so that they are unable to direct gunfire or to observe the movement of the allied troops, it will be possible to end the war."

"When my brother and I built and flew the first man carrying machine," said Mr. Wright, "we thought that we were introducing into the world an invention which would make further wars practically impossible. Nevertheless the world finds itself in the greatest war in history. Neither side has been able to win on account of the part the airplane has played. Both sides know exactly what the other is doing. The two sides are apparently nearly equal in aerial equipment, and unless present conditions can be changed the war will continue for years."

"However, if the allies' armies are equipped with such a number of airplanes as to keep the enemy planes entirely back of the line, so that they are unable to direct gunfire or to observe the movement of the allied troops—in other words, if the enemy's eyes can be put out—it will be possible to end the war. This is not taking into account what might be done by bombing German sources of munition supplies, such as Essen, which is only about 150 miles behind the fighting lines. But to end the war quickly and cheaply the supremacy in the air must be so complete as to entirely blind the enemy."

"The program laid down by the aircraft production board, if carried out, will obtain this result. The business organization and manufacturing equipment of our country offer the facilities for carrying out this program, and I believe that by no other method can the war be ended with so little loss of life and property."

BANTAMS WELCOMED IN ARMY

Sawed Off, Who Wanted to Form Regiment, Told Rule Is Waived.

Little men are just as welcome in the army as big men, provided they are strong and tough.

This was learned at the war department when an enterprising short man, somewhat irritated because he thought his lack of stature a bar to enlistment, wrote to Secretary Baker:

"If you will give me the authority to raise a regiment of little men, a bantam regiment, I will get them together in a short space of time and guarantee that they will do more effective work in a day than a like number of big men can do in a week."

In declining the offer the war department informed the bantam colonel that recruiting officers have instructions to waive minimum height rules, provided applicants have frames which are heavy enough to do the work which will be assigned to them.

SUSIE'S SOCKS LOSE CASTE.

Briton Tells Soldiers They're No Good For War.

Captain Charles Buckleton of the British army warned the guardsmen encamped in New Jersey to throw sentiment aside for the good of their feet and to refuse to wear socks knit for them by fond wives, mothers or sweethearts.

The regulation army sock, the officer continued, is the only proper protection for the feet of a soldier. He also advised care in the selection of shoes and boots for trench work.

Captain Buckleton was one of the first British officers to land in France at the beginning of the war. He has been wounded twice and is now ready to return to the front for the third time.

First Dental School. The year 1830 saw the foundation of the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery, the first of all institutional dentists, while three years earlier had been formed in New York the American Society of Dental Surgeons, a national organization, the first work of which was to bring about a legislative enactment prohibiting teeth extraction by barbers and other unqualified persons.

Hurrah! How's This Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that every time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poison, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezone can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You simply apply a few drops of freezone on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain. This drug is sticky but dries at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Wouldn't Sit on a Box.
The man in the box office of a Broadway theater is responsible for this. He asserts that a Brooklyn youth and his best girl stepped up to the box office window the other night and asked for two tickets for the show, which is a musical comedy. Only box seats were available. Returning to the girl the youth said: "They have nothing left but box seats." "Let's go home, then," she replied with a frown. "I won't sit on a box."

Similar Tastes.
A French lady recently married because of the bridegroom's taste and hers were similar. "I don't care very much for him and he doesn't care very much for me," she explained.—London Opinion.

THREE ARE SHOT IN STRIKE RIOTS

Street Battle at Lima, Ohio, Follows Car Moving.

RIOTER DISPERSED BY POLICE

Mayor Orders Saloons Closed—Cars Are Burned by Strike Sympathizers. Kansas City Is Tied Up by Street Car Troubles—No Attempt to Operate Lines.

Lima, O., Aug. 10.—Rioting broke out in the street car strike here late in the day.

Three men were shot in a clash between strike sympathizers and armed guards on the city cars of the Ohio Electric Railway company. Two street cars were burned during the battle.

Police dispersed a crowd of 5,000 persons gathered in the vicinity of the interurban depot.

Mayor Simpson ordered all saloons closed at 5:30 o'clock.

Probability that troops would be asked to quell the rioting was increased by the fact that demands for such action reached the city authorities from many sources.

Kansas City Cars Tied Up.

Kansas City, Aug. 10.—The tie-up of the street cars of the Kansas City Railway company, effective since 4 o'clock in the afternoon, continues. Not a car has moved in more than forty-eight hours, and company officials announced no action has been taken to restore service.

The men have announced they will not go back to work until their demands for recognition of the union and reinstatement of discharged employees are complied with.

U. S. Carpenters May Strike.

New York, Aug. 10.—Conferences seeking to prevent a strike of 28,000 carpenters, engaged in government war work throughout the country and to avoid sympathetic action by 375,000 others on account of the employment of nonunion labor by concerns handling federal contracts, were held here by representatives of the navy and war departments and spokesmen for the workers and the employers.

FRENCH RENEW FIGHT ON FLANDERS FRONT

Intense Artillery Duel on German Line Cleared.

Berlin, Aug. 10.—The artillery duel in Flanders has again increased to the greatest intensity, reports the German general staff. The bombardment had been especially heavy on the Belgian coast and from Bixschotte to Hollebeke.

London, Aug. 10.—Another gain of ground by French troops on the Flanders front, northwest of Bixschotte, is reported in the official statement on the Franco-Belgian front operations.

Paris, Aug. 10.—In the region of the ridge of Chevreigny and the Pantheon there was artillery activity, says the official report given out by the French war office. North of Vaux Les Palameix on the Aisne front a French detachment cleared a Teuton trench, inflicting losses on the Germans and returned to their own lines.

KAISER CALLS IN GERMAN CHIEFS

One of Greatest Confabs of War to Be Held.

MINERS URGE END OF WAR

8,000 Workers Meet at Essen, Seat of Great Krupp Gun Works—Reichstag Majority Peace and Democratic Institutions Are Urged—Von Kuelmann Begins Duties.

Amsterdam, Aug. 10.—One of the most important conferences in months has been called by the kaiser at grand headquarters. Chancellor Michaelis has left Berlin for headquarters in response to a summons from the kaiser, reports received here stated.

Participating in the conference will be military, governmental and diplomatic leaders of the empire.

Those attending furnish one of the most imposing arrays of German leaders that have come together since the outbreak of the war.

New Program Expected.
In the conference with the kaiser will be the crown prince; Field Marshal von Hindenburg, chief of staff; Quartermaster General Ludendorff; Hindenburg's right hand man; Vice Chancellor and Minister of Interior Hefferich, and Dr. von Stumm, permanent secretary of the foreign office.

In view of the recent changes in the cabinet it is believed the entire military and foreign policies of the empire are to be discussed and a definite program outlined.

German Miners Demand Peace.
Amsterdam, Aug. 10.—Eight thousand miners attended a recent mass meeting at Essen, Germany, for the discussion of coal production, food and wage. The meeting developed into an impressive demonstration in favor of peace by agreement and democratic reforms.

The miners declared in favor of the reichstag majority peace resolution and demanded that the reichstag pursue their decision in the interests of humanity. The socialist organ Vorwaerts says the fact that the demonstration occurred in Essen, the center of pan-German propaganda, increases its importance.

Von Kuelmann Begins Duties.
Copenhagen, Aug. 10.—An official dispatch from Berlin says that Dr. von Kuelmann began his duties as foreign minister Wednesday. He has gone with Chancellor Michaelis and Dr. William von Stumm, undersecretary for foreign affairs, to main headquarters of the army where he will be joined by Vice Chancellor Hefferich. After leaving headquarters Dr. Michaelis will visit the grand dukes of Baden and Darmstadt.

Indian Agent Dies.
Brainerd, Minn., Aug. 10.—Gus H. Beaulieu, aged sixty-five, agent for the Chippewas and instrumental in quieting the Chief Bug uprising at Sugar Point in 1893, is dead of heart disease.

Slain by Policeman.
Pontiac, Ill., Aug. 10.—A man believed to be Alexander Letven of Iroquois county was shot and killed in a pistol duel with Policeman Henry Redman.
